

Guest Speaker, Randal Tillery, Landscapes and Oils
Weds, February 10th, 2010 from 7 to 9pm @ Raley's Center

Letter from the President

The January EDHAA meeting was an exciting one; It started at 6pm with the Studio Tour artists proofreading their information on the beautifully designed brochure draft. The business meeting started at 7pm when the event center filled with members and guests anxious to see Debbie Gualco's portrait demonstration. Don's final job as 2009 EDHAA President was to oversee the 2010 election. The new board was voted into office by the large turn-out of members.

I'm honored to accept the job as your EDHAA President for 2010 and thrilled to have such an enthusiastic board to work with! It promises to be a busy year with monthly artist demonstrations, the Spring Studio Tour, the Membership Show and the scholarship selection and award process. And I'm hoping to include some new activities, like fieldtrips and workshops. We'll soon be meeting with the "old" and "new" board members to transfer duties and to plan the 2010 calendar of activities.

Mark your calendars for the second Wednesday in February for our a great demonstration with Randall Tillery. He's back by popular demand, because he did such a wonderful job when He was our guest demonstrator two years ago.

I'm looking forward to a wonderful year of art with friends! See you February 10th.
Judy A.

FEBRUARY'S GUEST SPEAKER

Randall Tillery will demonstrate a landscape oil painting on Wednesday, February 10, at the monthly El Dorado Hills Arts Association meeting at Raley's Market in El Dorado Hills.

Notes from Randall's website:

www.artbytillery.com

I paint in what I would describe as a conservative impressionist. I have found this style of Impressionism to be a style that I am continually being inspired, challenged and excited by.

I paint out of doors (Plein Air), as much as the weather allows. Those periods where I cannot be in nature, and instead am relegated to my studio, I like to use some of the smaller plein air studies, along with photos taken during my outdoors sessions to paint larger pieces.

Living in the Placerville, California area I am fortunate to be close to many beautiful areas to paint. Much of my time is spent painting in the Gold Country foothills, or the Sierra Mountains.

Encaustic Painting Workshops

Hot Wax/Cool Art

Experience the magic of an ancient art form! Encaustics is composed of translucent layers of melted beeswax, tree resin and powder pigments; applied hot, each layer of wax is fused together creating beautiful luminescent works of art. The result is a painting uniquely transparent, with a lush surface that is simultaneously sensual and contemplative. $125 All supplies provided. 10:00-3:00 2/27, 2/28, 4/24 & 4/25.
